You're invited to the third annual Stockport Business Angels event

They say all good things come in threes which must be true as our Stockport Business Angels event is back for the third time.

The last event was a massive success with pitching companies seeking over £1 million investment and securing 40%. So get ready to spread those wings again as we have another great line up of companies seeking investment.

“The event really encouraged pitchers and angels alike to engage with each other. We met two investors that are passionate and interested in what we are doing and have fulfilled 80% of our funding requirement. It was a great opportunity.”
