How we helped with a payroll problem

A medium size firm used a member of their accounts staff to do the monthly payroll internally which was taking 1 to 2 days a week of her time. The employee was frustrated as it was affecting her other role and she lacked the knowledge to deal with some of the more complex issues.

We smoothly took over the payroll function for the business. This allowed the employee more time to do her accounts role and gave the business access to expert knowledge whenever they needed it. By outsourcing their payroll this business made a substantial annual saving of £4,500.
